Word comes to local friends that Joseph Mooney is very ill at Excelsior Springs, where he has been taking treatment for several weeks.

The Halloween party given Tuesday evening by Master Charles Hayes was a very pleasant affair. A merry time resulted and the refreshments were greatly relished.

Rather chilly weather came with the ushering in of November, the temperature dropping to considerably below the freezing point, and with the raw wind the cold was rather keenly felt.

Miss Marie Schwaiger entertained a dozen young friends Wednesday evening at a Halloween party. The guests spent two hours in playing Halloween games after which refreshments were served.

The small boy was not very active All Halloween night, at least he was not perniciously active. Perhaps his greatest fun was the soaping of show windows in the business part of town, in which he allowed none to escape.

The number of vacant houses in town is larger than for several years past. This is not due to a decreasing population but to the fact that new residences have been erected in proportionately greater numbers than has been in our increase in population.

Richi Ugai, proprietor of the Palace cafe, celebrated the Mikado's birthday yesterday by serving a turkey dinner and supper. Both meals were largely patronized, especially the dinner, which was served from eleven to three o'clock. Both meals were nicely prepared and the service was prompt.

Farmers from the south part of the county are telling a joke on Jonathan Welch of Well precinct. According to their story Mr. Welch built a wagon shed over his wagons, and when the shed was completed he found that he had failed to provide way to get the wagons out. Perhaps, however, Jonathan has his side to the story.

THE PASTOR.

The J. D. club were the guests of Misses Minnie Lowe and Tillie Huxell at the home of the former Wednesday evening when they entertained at a pre-nuptial miscellaneous shower for Miss Gertrude Minshall. A cob web contest was one of the novel features of the evening. Other pleasant games and contests were indulged in after which a nicely prepared lunch was served and the guest of honor was presented with a beautiful collection of useful articles for her new home.

The ladies of the B. of L. F. and E. gave one of the prettiest Halloween entertainments of the week at the K. P. hall Tuesday evening. The members of both lodges and their families attended. For this occasion the large hall was gaily decorated with yellow and black, grinning pumpkins appeared here and there, black cats kept watch in the corners and ghostly creatures guarded the doorways. An enjoyable literary program was rendered followed by the march of the ghosts. A variety of new contests, tricks and games were then enjoyed. Mrs. Lawhead succeeded in winning first prize while Kirk Sturdevant was given the "booby." An elaborate lunch was served in the dining room where everything was suggestive of Halloween. The latter part of the evening was spent in dancing.

The Beet Harvest.

Up to this time about fifty per cent of the beet crop in the valley west of town has been harvested. The yield of beets, though irregular, is considered good, running from twelve to twenty-five tons to the acre. On the Otten farm the thirty acres are yielding an average of eighteen tons per acre; while a small field grown by Dave McConnell averaged twenty-three tons. The price for beets this season is five dollars per ton flat.

Turn Over Deed.

Last week the North Platte ditch company turned over a deed to the ditch to J. C. Wilson as receiver, who represents the water users. This action followed a threatened suit last year by the users against the company for failure to keep the ditch in repair, and the appointment of Mr. Wilson as receiver followed. The company also offered to turn over the O'Fallon lateral—eight miles long—to Receiver Wilson, but this he declined for the reason that he did not consider the users on the main ditch should be burdened with keeping up the repairs on the lateral. The deed to the lateral will therefore be turned over to the lateral users if they so desire.

Colonel Cody Retires.

A dispatch from Richmond, Va., dated Nov. 1, says: Col. Wm. F. Cody, "Buffalo Bill" to all the world, retired from public life tonight. His show was packed off to winter quarters and his Indians will return to their teepees in what is left of the red man's land, while "Buffalo Bill" intends to spend his remaining years in the Wyoming Big Horn, where he helped make American history.

During a career which began as a pony express rider, led him through more Indian battles than any other living white man, and included twenty-eight years as a showman, Colonel Cody became known as one of the most picturesque figures of American frontier life.

The sobriquet "Buffalo Bill" he earned in the early 60's, when he contracted to furnish buffalo meat to the laborers on the building of the Kansas Pacific railroad, and in less than eighteen months he killed 4,280 bison.
